OF THE

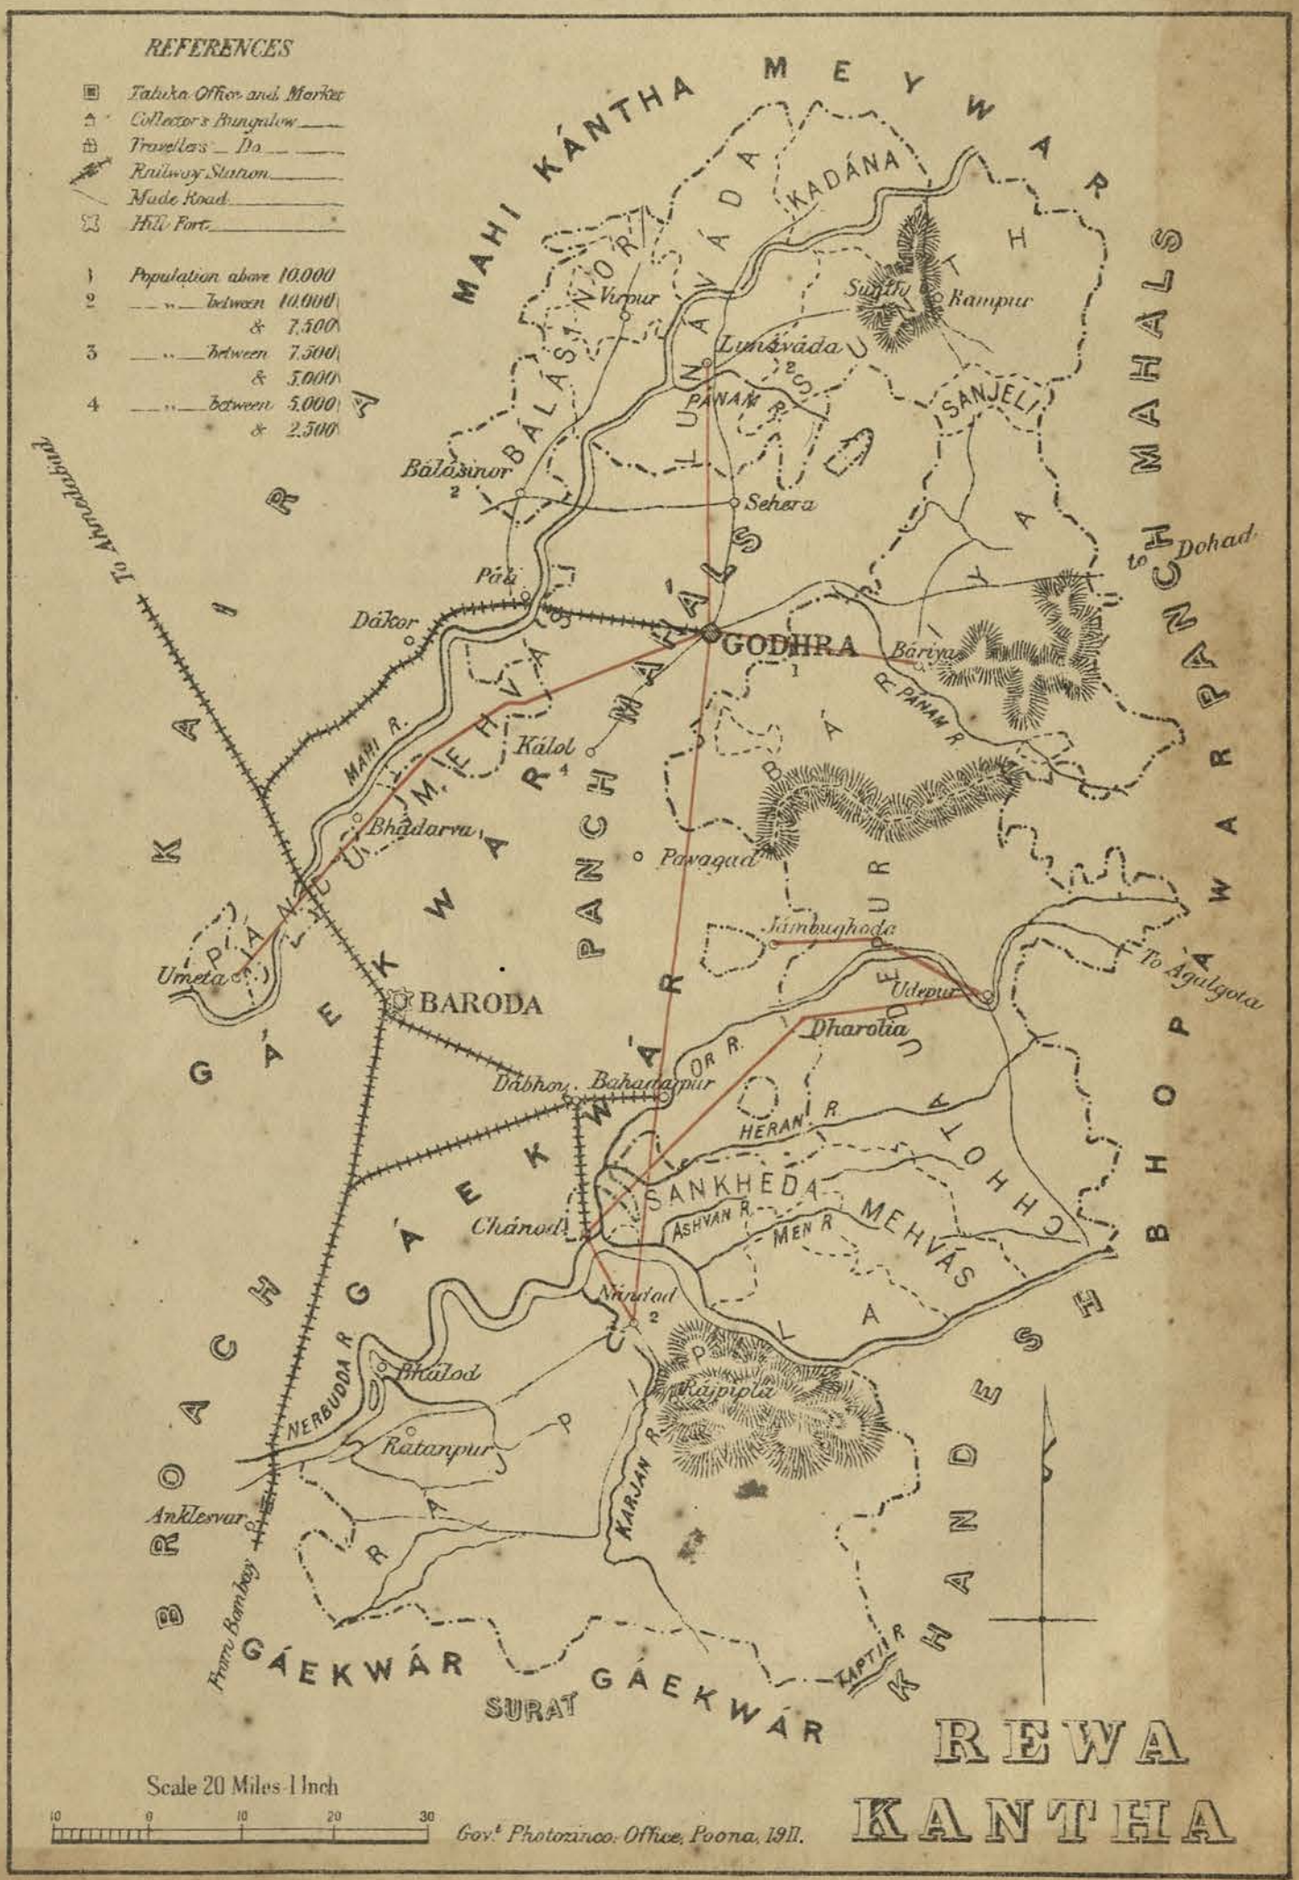
REWA-KANTHA AGENCY

FOR THE YEAR

1910-11.

LIBRARY OF THE BOMBAY BRANCH OF THE ROYAL ASIATIC SOCIETY



THE RED LINE INDICATES THE TOUR OF THE POLITICAL AGENT IN 1910-11.

No. G.-401 of 1911.

From

J. GHOSAL, Esq., I. C. S.,
Political Agent, Rewa Kántha;

To

The SECRETARY to GOVERNMENT,
Political Department, Bombay.

Rewa Kántha Agency Office:
Godhra, 13th October 1911.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit the Annual Administration Report of the Rewa Kántha Agency for the year 1910-11.

CHAPTER I.—General and Political.

2. The area covered by the present report comprises the marginally noted five petty States and the two Thána Circles. Details are shown in Appendix A. The one first class and five second class States of the Agency submit printed copies of their separate Administration Reports.

1. Kadána.
2. Bhádarwa.
3. Umetha.
4. Sanjeli.
5. Nárukot alias Jámbughoda.

3. During the year there were no casualties or new successions among the Chiefs or Tálukdárs; the old Thakore of Jámbughoda, however, died just after the close of the year. The Estate of Moti-Varneli was handed over to the Thakore on his attaining majority. The marriage of the only daughter of the Rana of Bhádarwa and of the grandson of Thakore Dipsingji of Jámbughoda are the only events of the year. There was no change in the powers or personnel of the Chiefs and Tálukdárs of the Agency.

4. The general decennial Census was taken on the night of 10th March 1911. According to this Census the population of the States with which this report deals is 108,567 as compared with 79,132 at the time of the last Census. The following figures of the last three Census may be of interest:—

Name of State.	1891.	1901.	1911.
1. Kadána	18,639	9,550	12,510
2. Bhádarwa	10,637	8,783	8,885
3. Umetha	6,189	3,831	5,265
4. Sanjeli	6,311	2,743	5,215
5. Jámbughoda	7,450	5,603	8,487
6. Sankheda Mewás	61,990	32,267	47,554
7. Pándu Mewás including Dodka Mewás ...	27,976	16,355	20,651
Total ...	139,192	79,132	108,567

Except Jámbughoda, none of the States has yet recovered from the effect of the famines and the population is still below that of 1891.

5. A meeting of the Border Court, though arranged, could not be held this year, as the Political Agent of Dungarpur was transferred at the last hour and his successor arrived late to his charge.

6. The Rewa Kántha Chiefs' association is now an established institution. A meeting of the members was held in October 1910 which lasted about a week. It tends to strengthen the friendly relations of the Chiefs and the harmonious conduct of interstatal business.

7. The Deputy Assistant Political Agent and the Assistant Political Agent toured throughout their charges and inspected almost all important places. They have also given attention to the working of the several branches of Administration in their respective charges. The Political Agent visited Rájpipla, Chhota-Udepur, Bária, Lunáwáda, Jámbughoda, Umetha and two Mewás.

A map showing the tour of the Political Agent is as usual annexed to the report as frontispiece.

8. A list of the Agency Officers of the Thána Circles, managed Estates and the States of Kadána and Bhádarwa is given in Appendix I to this report.

Cha'ndod Affairs.

9. Chándod is a small town on the Narbada and a place of pilgrimage for Hindus. The Civil and Criminal jurisdiction of the place belongs to the Baroda Darbar with certain specified privileges while the remaining jurisdiction belongs to the Rana of Mándwa. Such a system of double jurisdiction is naturally a fruitful source of disputes. Levy in kind by Mándwa from dealers in vegetables, betel-leaves, etc., has been converted into a cess in cash. Nothing else of importance has occurred. The question of introducing registration rules in Chándod is still under consideration. The disputes, as they arise, are decided by the Political Agent on their merits.

Managed Estates.

10. The number of Estates or tálukas under management has been reduced by two. All questions having been settled, the Estate of Moti-Varnoli has been restored to its Thakore. The management of Vasan-Virpur has also been restored to Thakore Gambhirsingji under orders of Government. No new Estate has been taken under management. Dodka, Gothada and Nárukot are under Agency management for reasons other than minority or incumbrances. Pándu is under attachment owing to embarrassed finances; and the rest owing to the minority of the incumbents.

CHAPTER II.—Administration of Land.

11. Kadána.—Survey settlement has been introduced during the year of report in 13 villages as against 1 in the last year and two instalments have been fixed for revenue collection. In the remaining villages, the system of 'Kaltar' (crop share) and 'Udhadvero' (lump assessment) continues in vogue. These latter form an uncertain and indefinite system of revenue assessment; and the Thakore is anxious to extend the survey settlement throughout the State; the work of measurement and classification in these villages is in progress. Collection of revenue is reported to work smoothly and without resort to coercive processes. Rs. 221 were remitted in deserving cases. Land measuring 1,147 bighas was newly brought under cultivation; and Rs. 102 were advanced as tagái free of interest.

12. Bhádarwa.—No extension of the system of survey settlement or of cultivation has been attempted. The 12 villages in which that system was introduced previously continued to be assessed under it; while in the remaining three the vighoti system remains. Remissions of Rs. 839 and no tagái was granted; and no coercive process was adopted. Alienation inquiry is at a standstill; and the administration of land revenue is a dull routine.

13. Umetha.—The nine villages under the Agency jurisdiction enjoy survey settlement. In the five villages of the Estate situated within the Borsad Táluka of the Kaira Collectorate, the work of measurement and classification is completed; but the total calculated assessment falls short of that now levied under vighoti system and so the question of levelling up the former is under consideration. Collections amounted to Rs. 43,768 out of which Rs. 8,000 belonged to past arrears. A few notices of demand were the only coercive processes resorted to. Fifty-six bighas of waste land assessed at Rs. 91 were brought under cultivation. Remission of Rs. 473 was granted and no tagái advances were granted.

14. Sanjeli.—No survey settlement is introduced; and the land revenue is assessed under the uncertain plough tax system (halbandhi) in some parts and under the crop share (kaltar) in the others. A kacha survey has been completed, but it has not been possible to introduce any settled form of assessment. A visit of the Political Agent to the State will, it is expected, afford a good opportunity for the disposal of the question. Revenue collections amounted to Rs. 11,641 out of a demand of Rs. 11,887. Cultivation was extended by 250 bighas of waste land newly brought under plough. It was not found necessary to grant any tagái or remissions. Revenue collection was smooth without any coercive process.

15. Nárukot alias Jámbughoda.—The plough tax system continues to obtain. The introduction of survey settlement is under contemplation. The survey work is to be started next season. Introduction of cotton cultivation, influx of pátidár cultivators from the neighbouring villages and the adjoining districts of Shivrájpur and Chhota-Udepur, and prospects of manganese enterprises make the introduction of a survey settlement all the more important. Tagái to the amount of Rs. 2,100 was advanced. Revenue collections amounted to Rs. 9,195 as against Rs. 9,370 last year. Little coercion was adopted.

Sankheda and Pándu Mewás.

16. Survey settlement has been introduced during the year under report in the Estate of Moti-Varnoli in Pándu Mewás which now possesses five Estates levying their land revenue according to the survey settlement. In Sankheda Mewás 16 Estates levy their land assessment on the survey settlement; while in the rest of both the Mewás the old system prevails. Revenue collections amounted to Rs. 1,96,390 and Rs. 55,809 in the Sankheda and Pándu Mewás out of the total demands of Rs. 1,98,767 and Rs. 63,809 respectively. The recoveries were effected without resort to coercive process. 1,051 bighas of waste land were given out for cultivation during the year. No tagái or remissions were granted. The alienation enquiry is completed in Dodka, Anghadh, Sihora and Rájpur in the Pándu Mewás.

Boundary disputes.

17. The two disputes referred to the Boundary Commissioner as reported last year have been inquired into by that officer and are awaiting his decision. Six more cases were disposed of by amicable settlement by the Deputy Assistant Political Agent in consultation with the Boundary Settlement Officer of the Baroda State. All these cases belong to the Sankheda Mewás and the adjoining portion of the Baroda territories.

CHAPTER III.—Protection.

18. No addition or alteration has been made in the Acts and Regulations in force in the several States to which this report refers. Appendix II contains the details of the several laws in force therein.

19. In the area under report no military force is maintained anywhere.

Police.

20. Kadána.—Forty men as last year were maintained at the same cost of Rs. 3,936. The working of the Police has maintained the same high degree of efficiency as last year. Out of 26 men sent up for trial, 25 were convicted and gave a percentage of 96, as last year. Property worth Rs. 375 was stolen out of which that worth Rs. 301 was recovered and so the percentage rose from 14·5 to 80.

21. Sanjeli.—The strength of the force remains unaltered; and the cost rose from Rs. 2,220 to Rs. 2,304. Though the total strength is the same the number of Policemen able to read and write rose from 4 last year to 8 this year. There were 13 cognizable cases dealt with by the Police in which 21 persons were sent up for trial; 16 persons out of these being convicted the percentage came to 76·19 against 91·0 last year. The value of property stolen and recovered amounted to Rs. 109 and Rs. 63 and so the percentage came to 57·8 as compared with 12·0 of the preceding year.

22. Bhádarwa.—The Police force remains the same; the cost of maintenance also is very much the same, viz. Rs. 2,604, during the year of the report as against Rs. 2,597 last year. The working of the Police seems to be going from bad to worse. Though 34 persons were sent up by the Police for their trial only 4 were convicted, thus giving a percentage of 11·8 against 42 last year. The amounts of property stolen and recovered present still more deplorable features. Property worth Rs. 337 was stolen; but the Police could recover that worth only Rs. 30; and so its percentage comes down to 8·8 from 9 last year.

23. Umetha.—The Abkári police included, the force remains the same, i.e. 17, and the cost of its maintenance also remains the same, i.e. Rs. 1,992. One of the force specially trained last year at Godhra is now teaching drill to the rank and file in the State. The Police had to deal with 9 cases in which they sent up 11 persons for trial; and got only 5 convicted. Thus the percentage was reduced to 45·45 from 70. The percentage of property recovered out of that stolen also presents a marked fall, i.e., from 87 last year to 68, during the year of the report; but the value of stolen property itself is reduced greatly, i.e., to Rs. 88 against Rs. 285 last year.

24. Nárukot and the Thána Circles.—The Police of these areas has been amalgamated with the District Police of the Panch Mahals and so its working is reviewed in the Provincial Police report. To complete, however, the information for the area to which this report refers necessary details are given in Appendices IV and VII for this Police also.

Village Police.

25. Kadána.—The same number of Police Patels and ravanias (130 and 21 respectively) continued; their remuneration is service Inám land. In Bhádarwa, also the same number (32) of patels and ravanias continued. Here they are paid partly in cash and partly in land. In Umetha ravanias work for cash remunerations while the Police Patels enjoy service land as well as small cash allowances. The village Police of the 5 villages of Umetha situate in the Borsad Táluka are under the control of the Borsad Mámlatdár and are maintained at a yearly cost of Rs. 798 which is yearly sent to that officer. In Nárukot the number of Police Patels was raised to 53 from 51 as two new appointments were made. The working of these officials is satisfactory. In Sanjeli and the Thana circles there is nothing like the village police system. In the latter the duties of police patels are managed by the Tálukdárs who have their own men working under them; the work of detecting crime and bringing criminals to justice being entrusted to the District Police.

Criminal Justice.

26. No alteration has taken place in the Criminal Courts of the Agency. The number of criminal offences tried by the magistracy fell from 362 to 281. 606 persons were dealt with as against 696. Of these 190 were convicted, 922 discharged without trial and 160 acquitted.

The Political Agent as the Appellate Court entertained 3 appeals out of which the decisions of the lower Court were confirmed in two cases and reversed in one—Appendix IX.

Civil Justice.

27. In all 562 civil suits were received during the year. These with 273 in arrears at the beginning of the year give 835 for disposal. The noticeable increases in the number of suits appear in Kadána, Bhádarwa, Umetha and Sankheda Mewás. This may be attributed to the favourable season and reviving prosperity. Out of these 590 suits were disposed of and 245 were left over at the close of the year. The details of the suits and their money value are contained in Appendix X. The average duration of those disposed of ranges from 2 months and 4 days to 8 months and 20 days in the several Civil Courts. The greatest period occurred in the Courts of the Thakores of Gad, Shanor, Mándwa and Sankheda Mewás.

28. The applications for execution of decrees received during the year numbered 279, and 218 were left over at the end of the last year. Of these 363 valued at Rs. 21,770 were disposed of during the year; and the balance at the end numbered 134 valued at Rs. 7,376.

29. The Civil Appellate Courts remained the same. In all 19 civil appeals were received during the year, which with the balance of 3 gave 22 for disposal. A large increase appears in the Courts of the Deputy Assistant Political Agent and the Rana of Bhádarwa. The Deputy Assistant Political Agent disposed of 13 appeals, whereas the Rana of Bhadarwa disposed of only one out of 7. The administration of Civil justice in Bhádarwa would thus appear to be deplorable.

Extradition.

30. Kadána.—The State obtained 6 accused from Lunáwáda and surrendered one to Lunáwáda and one to Sunth. The offences in which these were concerned were those under sections 403 and 323 of the Indian Penal Code.

31. Sanjeli.—One accused was made over to the Jhálod Táluka of the Panch Mahals District; while 9 were brought in from outside, 4 from the Godhra Táluka and 5 from the Sunth State.

32. Bhádarwa.—No rendition of prisoners had taken place.

33. Umetha.—One prisoner was extradited into the State from the Baroda Territory and two from the Borsad Táluka of the Kaira Collectorate. The State surrendered two accused to the Baroda State. They were all concerned in the offences of house-breaking, theft, hurt and robbery.

34. Nárukot.—No extradition case took place.

35. Thána Circles.—Sankheda Mewás surrendered 5 accused to Baroda and received none from outside. Pándu Mewás made over 1 to Baroda and two to the Cutch State, the latter being for the offence of murder.

Prisons.

36. In the 15 jails and lock-ups 107 prisoners were entertained during the year under report at the total cost of Rs. 1,097, the corresponding figures of the last year being 132 prisoners at a total cost of. Rs. 1,554. Appendix XIII gives the details of the prisoners. No casualties have occurred among the prisoners whose health and behaviour were reported to be good and satisfactory. The jail buildings are sufficiently secure and adequate guards are provided for them.

Registration.

37. Special registration rules modelled on the basis of the British Registration Law are in force in the two Thána Circles, Bhádarwa and the Managed Estates of Sanjeli, Nárukot and Umetha. Kadána has no registration law and so the Rana contemplates adopting some measure on the subject. No documents were received for registration in Sanjeli and Nárukot. In the area in which the rules are in force, 1,627 documents affecting property of the value of Rs. 4,80,318 were received for registration as compared with 40 documents relating to Rs. 19,862 worth of property last year. The unusually heavy increase is due to as many as 1,568 documents being received in Bhádarwa Registration Courts. The causes which led to this increase have been called for from the Rana. The amount of registration fees realised came to Rs. 4,497 against Rs. 188 last year.

Municipal Administration.

38. There is no Municipality which can properly be so called. The small town of Bhádarwa possesses one, but it only looks to very elementary sanitation and conservancy. The income thereof is derived from a house tax ranging from 7 to 14 annas per house. The total income of the Municipality during the year amounted to Rs. 137 against Rs. 199 and expenditure to Rs. 174 against Rs. 175.

CHAPTER IV.—Production and distribution.

Weather and Crops.

39. Appendix XVII shows the rainfall measured at the several places. The maximum fall was 52·80 at Sanjeli and the minimum 32·55 at Dodka. Rainfall was more than the average of the past five years; it was copious and well distributed. The outturn of crops was therefore normal. There were no marked fluctuations in prices of the several staple crops, as will be seen from Appendix XVIII. This year, too, the prices of cotton ruled high. Frost in the harvesting season caused some damage to the cotton.

Wages and labour.

40. Wages for an adult male ranged from 3 to 6 annas in the different parts, for women from 2 to 4 annas, and for children from 2 to 3 annas per diem. Skilled labour earned one rupee per day on an average. Labour is not scarce; but in Jambughoda the mining concerns in the neighbouring districts of Shivrajpur and Chhota-Udepur tend to absorb all available labour and create increased demand for it.

Forests.

41. There is no scientific forest conservancy or organised forest administration. As a rule all unoccupied area forms the forest over which the States have the proprietary right. A petty establishment of an officer and four or five beat guards is maintained by each of the States of Kadána, Sanjeli and Narukot. These men look after the forests and prevent and detect forest offences. The forests abound in teak, timber of small scantling, mhowra, and other trees useful for building purposes and supply timber and fuel to the ryots. The timber is cut on the farming system. The Thákore of Gad, Vajiria, Agar, and Vanmála in the Sankheda Mewás intend to gradually introduce some sort of a forest conservancy. The ryots of these States are supplied with free building materials for huts and with wood for agricultural implements.

Trade and manufactures.

42. Dyeing and printing of quilts and jajams (native carpets) are carried on in Bhádarwa, Sihora and Umetha; and the work finds a market in the neighbouring Districts of Baroda, Kaira and Panch Maháls. No other trade or manufacture worth the name is carried on anywhere. The population consists chiefly of the backward classes like Bhils, Dhárálás and Náikdás whose one aim is to get a yield just sufficient for their annual consumption. The surplus, if any, is sold in the surrounding States of Sunth, Lunáwáda, Panch Maháls, Baroda, etc. Export of timber (teak and other) and other forest produce is carried on on a considerable scale. Other exports of some importance are cotton and mhowra.

43. The receipts from customs dues were Rs. 2,386 in Kadána; Rs. 1,933, in Sanjeli; Rs. 1,709 in Narukot. The Sankheda and Pandu Mewás received Rs. 3,051 and Rs. 392 respectively on this account, while Bhádarwa and Umetha had none.

Public Works.

44. The details of works of public utility constructed during the year are given in Appendix XIX. They are wells and repairs to roads and buildings. A Dharamshala at Amrol and one in Umetha were newly constructed. The expenditure totalled Rs. 16,593 against Rs. 29,861 last year. The Jambughoda-Bodeli Road, though provided for in the Budget, is not yet commenced.

Post Offices.

45. The number of post offices is the same, i. e., 15. They afford sufficient postal conveniences to the public and the States concerned.

Mints.

46. There is no mint and British coin is current throughout the Agency.

General Condition of States and People.

47. The financial condition of Narukot and Umetha is very sound and that of Kadána and Sanjeli is satisfactory. Bhádarwa is verging on bankruptcy. Vajiria, Bhilodia and Naswádi in the Sankheda Mewás are the only States with decent balances. The other tálukas in the Sankheda and Pandu Mewás are very badly off. As far as agriculture is concerned the season was a good one. Agricultural stock and fodder-supply were also adequate. The general health of people and cattle continued good. Thrift and improved methods of cultivation have yet to be taught to the agriculturists who are backward and live from hand to mouth. Details of agricultural stock are given in Appendix XX. Appendix XVIII gives the prices of food grains, which remain very much the same.

48. The principal produce of agriculture is maize, bavto, gram, túr, cotton, mhowra and bájri; and of forest is honey, lac, etc. These are collected by petty shop-keepers in retail and then exported outside. A large portion of cultivable land remains waste, as large tracts are away from Railway communication or in the hilly recesses, and so shunned or feared by outside cultivators. No immigration or emigration was noticed. Labour in Jambughoda and the Sankheda Mewás finds employment in the mining concerns at Shivrájpur and Chhota-Udepur. In other parts there is only the demand for local labour for agriculture.

49. The consumption of opium, liquor and intoxicating drugs is detailed in Appendix XXI. As drinking classes form the bulk of the population, the past excellent season led to increased consumption and increase in State revenue therefrom.

CHAPTER V.—Revenue and Finances.

50. Kadána.—The gross revenue from all sources except the debt heads was Rs. 50,266 against Rs. 43,864 last year. Of the total increase of Rs. 6,402, Rs. 3,950 are under the head Land Revenue which is due to the introduction of Survey Settlement in some villages and more waste land having been brought under cultivation. The system newly adopted of selling building sites to ryots has brought in an increase of Rs. 222. The forest revenue shows an increase of Rs. 1,821, and Judicial, Abkári and Opium Rs. 666, 603 and 186 respectively. These can be attributed to the favourable crops of the preceding season. The heads of revenue that show a decrease are Customs Rs. 663 and Miscellaneous Rs. 384. The total expenditure was Rs. 32,265 as against Rs. 36,255 last year. The noticeable decrease of Rs. 2,244 in the Durbar expenses is reported to be due to no expenses being incurred for nimnooks. Miscellaneous expenses are reduced by Rs. 217. The State has no debt either private or Government.

51. Sanjeli.—The gross revenue and expenditure amounted to Rs. 22,889 and Rs. 16,402 against Rs. 21,424 and Rs. 21,013 respectively. Customs and Land Revenue show some increases over last year; while the decrease in expenditure is due to the fact that provision was made last year for a bungalow at Godhra.

52. Bhádarwa.—The year brought in the gross revenue of Rs. 46,481 against Rs. 40,397 of the previous year. The increase principally occurs in Land Revenue and in Judicial receipts. The expenditure rose from Rs. 41,571 to Rs. 51,043. The Thakore's only daughter was married during the year of the report and this is answerable for the increase in expenditure. The State has private debts amounting to Rs. 14,344, though Government loan has been fully repaid. Rs. 82,988 are due to the State from the ryots on account of Land Revenue of previous years and it is presumably a book-asset.

53. Umetha.—The total revenue of the year remained almost the same, the figure being Rs. 53,980 against Rs. 53,933. There is a noticeable increase of about 2,000 in Land Revenue receipts, due to the past good seasons. Some rise is noticeable in Forest receipts. On the other hand, the Á'bkári receipts show a decrease of over Rs. 1,000 and Opium and Judicial receipts show also some decrease. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 39,265 against Rs. 48,557. The greatest decrease of about seven thousand is under "Public Works" as the construction of the bungalow does not figure this year. Other noticeable decrease appears under Administration, Forests, Liquidation of debts and Miscellaneous. The Durbar expenses show an increase of about Rs. 1,000. Revenue, Police, Medical and Education are responsible for some increase, which calls for no remarks.

54. Narukot.—Gross revenue amounted to Rs. 24,899 and expenditure to Rs. 22,434, last year's figures being Rs. 36,496 and Rs. 17,464 respectively. The decrease in revenue is due to the fact that the sums realised for forest sales were levied in full last year instead of by instalments as usual. The construction of the bungalow at Godhra during the year under report accounts for the rise in expenditure. Kuvar Shri Ranjitsingji was educated at the Rajkumár College, Rájkot, at an expense of Rs. 3,000 per year to the State.

55. Sankheda Mewás.—The revenue rose from Rs. 2,43,393 to 2,48,377 and expenditure from Rs. 2,23,461 to 2,47,892. The Mewás comprises 26 petty estates, the Thákores of which manage their own revenue and expenses. Almost all of these are free from Government debts.

56. Pandu Mewás.—The income fell from Rs. 70,202 to 69,868; while the expendture fell from Rs. 73,239 to Rs. 70,567.

57. Appendix XXII shows the details of receipts and expenditure under the several heads. Of the States of the two Mewás, Vajiria possesses an invested balance of Rs. 79,500 and a cash balance of Rs. 11,103.

CHAPTER VI.—Vital Statistics.

58. Eight dispensaries remained open during the year. The Jambughoda Dispensary is maintained jointly by Government and the State; those at the Head Quarter Stations of the Thána Circles by the Mewás Fund; while the remainder are maintained by the States concerned. The total number of patients treated including indoor ones was 21,215 against 23,818 and the total cost of Rs. 7,360 against Rs. 6,726 last year. These institutions afford adequate medical help and advice to the ryots.

59. Vaccinations and revaccinations taken together come to 3,560 against 3,829 last year.

60. There is room for improvement in the system of the registration of births and deaths. The patels to whom the duty properly belongs are for the most part illiterate and so the registration is done by other agency (e.g., talátis or school masters) to whom information is supplied by these patels orally. Births rose from 3,495 to 3,849 and deaths from 1,699 to 2,285.

CHAPTER VII.—Education.

61. By the opening of a new school in the Jambughoda State, the total was brought up to 31 as against 30 last year. Of these the Rewa Kántha Tálukdári School at Godhra is intended for the training of the sons of the Thákores and Tálukdárs of the Rewa Kántha and Panch Maháls. There is one English class and Sanskrit Páthshála at Chándod maintained from a charitable grant made by the Honourable Sir Vithaldas Thakersey. The rest are primary schools imparting elementary education in vernacular to the backward population. Education is slowly but steadily gaining in popular favour among these classes.

62. The total number of boys attending the schools came to 1,199 against 1,169 and of girls to 94 against 60. The average daily attendance rose from 883 to 893. The cost of maintaining these schools came to Rs. 9,805 against Rs. 8,469.

63. The Thákore of Kadána continues to give a scholarship of Rs. 5 for English Education at the Ahmedabad High School.

CHAPTER VIII.—Miscellaneous.

64. The area to which this report refers contains no printing press or library.

65. No expenditure was incurred for the destruction of wild animals and venomous snakes. There was no enthusiasm for manganese mining.

66. The whole area was quite free from epidemic or endemic disease.

Conclusion.

67. Though there was nothing remarkable to note this year in the general administration of the States under report, on the whole it was one of general prosperity except perhaps in Bhádarwa.

68. Kadána is a third class State and is doing well under an able and sympathetic Chief. Sanjeli and Umetha are both under administration and improvements are being enforced gradually. Umetha will probably be handed back next year. In that case the Thákore will start with a handsome balance in the Treasury, with the land revenue system thoroughly revised, and an efficiently organised police and general administrative staff. Sanjeli too will soon have to be handed back. In this State, though we have not a large balance, the administrative improvements are comparatively more marked. Jambughoda has been under administration for years and except that the land revenue system is of a rather obsolete type the administration is as good as in any British District. Bhádarwa, I regret to point out, is very badly managed and has formed the subject of a separate report to Government.

69. As to the Mewás I regret I cannot speak of them as well as of the other States. Both the Sankheda and Pandu Mewás are rather behind-hand in administration and in prosperity.

70. The Thákores are all very poor and the Land Revenue system is old fashioned. All improvements in communication, education and sanitation are supposed to be met from the "Mewás Fund", but the Fund is in such a chronic state of indebtedness that they have had to be postponed. Until we can provide better internal communication, spread education and improve the general "Local Fund" administration so to speak, the Mewás States will remain backward in the race for progress. At present these States are tabooed by all merchants and well-to-do cultivators and so the produce commands lower prices and large areas remain waste. In the one State of Gad Boriad there are over 30,000 bighas of waste.

71. The Tálukdári School is not in a flourishing condition. The charges per student were so high that many of the petty Thákores could not afford to pay them and the institution consequently was not very popular, nor well attended. I am, however, reorganising the whole administration and hope to see better results in the future.

72. I regret to have to conclude with the unfortunate intimation that once more the States in this Agency, specially Pandu Mewás, are threatened with a severe famine. As stated before, the petty Estates have hardly recovered from the effects of the famine of 1900-01 and probably they will again be thrown right back.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. GHOSAL,

Political Agent, Rewa Kántha.

APPENDIX A.

Godhra, 13th October 1911.

J. GHOSAL,
Political Agent, Rewa Kántha.

Review by the Commissioner, Northern Division, of the Annual Administration Report of the Rewa Kántha Agency for the year 1910-11.

No. 961 of 1911.

Camp Thána, 7th December 1911.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

Submitted to Government.

2. The report of the year's administration contains little of exceptional interest and but few comments are needed. The season was favourable and uneventful; crops were normal.

3. The figures of the Census taken in March last shew that although a considerable increase has been effected during the last decade, the population of the tract under report remains much smaller than in 1891. The State of Narukot or Jambughoda forms the solitary exception.

4. Moti-Varnoli and Vasan-Virpur having been released, there are now only nine estates under Agency management. Affairs in Vasan-Virpur have not run altogether smoothly since the estate was handed over to Gambhirsingi's management as his brother Chhatrasingji is dissatisfied with the arrangement but it may be hoped that Gambhirsingji will abide by his undertaking and that in time the trouble between the two brothers will die down.

5. The Survey Settlement has not been introduced into either Jambughoda or Sanjeli, but in the case of the former its early introduction is contemplated. In Kadana and in the Pandu Mewas the settlement has been still further extended. It has not yet been extended to the five villages of Umetha mentioned in last year's report because the application of the revision rates would result in a decrease of assessment; the Political Agent reports that "the question of levelling up the former—(i. e. revision rates) is under consideration." There should be no further delay in disposing of the question.

6. The Boundary Commissioner has not yet pronounced his decision in the two disputes which were referred to him before the last report was written; his enquiry into both appears to have been completed.

7. With regard to Police arrangements there is nothing to note except that in Bhadarwa the Police work is, to use the Political Agent's words, "going from bad to worse". The affairs of this petty State have already been brought to the notice of Government.

8. An appreciable drop in the number of criminal cases brought to trial, due probably to the favourable nature of the season is to be noted. It is satisfactory to note that the number of applications for the execution of decrees remaining undisposed of at the close of the year is considerably less than last years. The Rana of Bhadarwa has allowed his Civil appellate work to fall badly into arrears.

9. The explanation of the abnormally large increase in the number of documents presented for registration in Bhadarwa is that when the new Registration Rules were introduced into the State in December 1909, documents executed within a certain period before the introduction were admitted to registration if presented within a specified time after the introduction. The concession was largely taken advantage of.

10. Of the original expenditure on Public Works Rs. 8,307 were devoted to buildings; Rs. 1,592 to wells and Rs. 1,465 to tanks. The expenditure on repairs amounted to Rs. 10,229 of which Rs. 8,041 were spent on buildings, Rs. 1,108 on tanks, Rs. 579 on wells and only Rs. 181 on repairs to roads. The improvement of communications would appear therefore to have been entirely neglected.

11. Kadána, Umetha, Sanjeli and Narukot have all been able to increase their balances during the year and the financial condition of all four is satisfactory. Bhadarwa on the other hand is in an extremely bad way and the Political Agent's comment that it is verging on bankruptcy appears to be only too fully justified. The small balance of Rs. 1,088 with which the State opened the year has now been reduced to Rs. 275. While the income rose from Rs. 40,397 (excluding Tagai transactions) to Rs. 46,481, the expenditure increased to Rs. 51,043. This included, it is true Rs. 839 of Remissions but Darbar expenses were increased by close on Rs. 5,000 while over Rs. 12,000 were swallowed up by extraordinary charges (presumably incurred on marriage expenses). Simultaneously the expenditure on Public Works was reduced to a paltry sum of Rs. 366. With a year of scarcity or famine before it the State can scarcely escape bankruptcy.

12. Sufficient attention appears to be paid to the maintenance of public dispensaries and these are fairly well attended. The number of vaccinations and re-vaccinations performed was slightly lower than in the preceding year. The registration of vital statistics is, as the Political Agent remarks, capable of improvement.

13. Education makes slow progress. The school promised by Jambughoda has been opened and there are now 31 schools imparting an education of some kind to 1,199 boys and 94 girls. Considering the backward state of the tract under report, even this small increase in the number of girls attending the schools is encouraging. The Political Agent's promised reorganization of the Tálukdari School at Godhra will be awaited with interest for the school had fair possibilities at one time and its falling into disfavour is to be regretted.
